

Information concerning the new strain of influenza

Please wash your hands, gargle, cover your mouth when coughing in order to prevent infection.

The Hyogo Prefectural Government has established a comprehensive consultation window in its main office building and telephone consultation windows for people who have a fever at Health and Welfare Offices (public health centers). If you have developed symptoms similar to the new strain of influenza, such as a fever and/or a cough, please consult one of these windows immediately by phone. Health and Welfare Offices will introduce you to special medical institutions for outpatients. Please refrain from visiting medical institutions directly.
